

Gausman & Moore participates in the NCEL Business Breakfast

NCEL business breakfasts provide the perfect opportunity to learn about topics shared by all segments of our electrical industry and to catch up with industry personnel.

Gausman & Moore's Derek Sachs was one of the BIM panelist at the NCEL Business Breakfast. On January 13, 2011 the Business Breakfast presented a panel of professionals knowledgeable on Building Information Modeling (BIM) technology that is being used today. Perspectives were given from a builder, engineer, contractor and manufacturer viewpoints.

Derek shared his knowledge from engineering many projects using BIM.
